1 EXT. WESTER DRUMLINS HOUSE - NIGHT

Big forbidding gates. Wrought iron, the works. A big modern padlock on.

Through the gates, an old house. Ancient, crumbling, overgrown. Once beautiful - still beautiful in decay.

Panning along: on the gates - DANGER, KEEP OUT, UNSAFE STRUCTURE --

The gates are shaking, like someone is climbing them --

-- and then a figure drops into a view on the other side.

Straightens up into a close-up.

Early twenties, very pretty, just a bit SALLY SPARROW mad, just a bit dangerous. She's staring at the house, eyes shining. Big naughty grin.

SALLY

Sexy!

And she starts marching up the long gravel drive ...

The big grand house in darkness, huge sweeping staircase, shuttered window, debris everywhere --

One set of shutters buckles from an impact from the inside, splinters.

SALLY, clutching a camera. Walks from one room to anot her. Takes a phot ograph.

Her face: fascinated, loving this creepy old place. Takes anot her phot ograph.

CUT TO:

4 INT. WESTER DRUMLINS HOUSE. CONSERVATORY ROOM - NIGHT 4

In the conservatory now - the windows looking out on a darkened garden.

And a patch of rotting wall paper catches SALLY'S eye --

High on the wall, just below the picture rail, a corner of wall paper is peeling away, drooping mournfully down from the wall --

-- revealing writing on the plaster behind. Just two letters we can see - ${\it BE}$ - the beginning of a word --

She reaches up on tiptoes and pulls at the hanging frond of wallpaper.

The whole word revealed:

BEWARE

And on this word, dramatic chords: ludicrous, over the top, like from a cheesy old horror movie --

-- and just as we think Murray Gold has lost his mind, Sally pulls out her mobile phone and silences the music by answering it.

SALLY

Hello?

CUT TO:

5 INT. PUB - NIGHT

5

Corner of noisy pub, KATHY, phone at her ear, finger in the other one.

KATHY

Sally Sparrow, you promised you'd come. It's Saturday night, we need to be here!

CUT TO:

6 INT. WESTER DRUMLINS HOUSE. CONSERVATORY ROOM - NIGHT 6

SALLY'S eyes are still on the word BEWARE. Eyes gleaming, alive to the mystery. [Intercut between PUB and CONSERVATORY as necessary].

SALLY

Why?

KATHY

Because we don't have boyfriends and we're going to die!

SALLY

We're what??

KATHY

Well, you know, one day.

SALLY

G ni ght, Kat hy!

Sally, laughing, clicks off the phone. Looks at the revealed word. Frowns.

Beware? Beware what?

She pulls at the wallpaper again. It tears along horizontally, revealing more --

BEWARE THE WEEPING

Frowns? The weeping? She rips further. One more word. The completed message reads ...

BEWARE THE WEEPING ANGEL

What does that mean??

There's more writing below this - the topmost fragment of a letter is poking up into the torn-off area. She pulls the next strip off, revealing more words written just below.

OH, AND DUCK.

Sally stares. Duck??

Pulls off the next strip down on the off chance. And reveals:

NO, REALLY, DUCK!

What??

Seriously puzzled now, she pulls off the next strip.

SALLY SPARROW, DUCK, NOW!!

She's jolted back a step. Her own name on the wall. Impossible.

On her face, the thoughts clicking through her head. Duck? Duck!!

And she ducks!

Glass smashes behind her, something hurtles through the air over her head, smashes into the wall where the writing is.

6 CONTINUED: (2)

Just a rock, a big stone - but it would ve knocked her cold. It bounces to the floor. She flashes her torch towards the broken windows. Is anyone there, who was that??

And her torch beam lands on a silent figure standing just beyond the windows of the conservatory.

Sally startles, someone's out there --

-- then realises she's looking at --

AN ANCIENT STONE STATUE, standing tall and thin and solem in the overgrown garden - ancient, weather-beaten, stained and mottled by a hundred years of rain.

Its head is bowed, and its face is buried in its hands, like it's lamenting.

Or weeping ...

Weeping! Sally looks back to the first line of the wall writing --

BEWARE THE WEEPING ANGEL

- -- back to the statue. She peers around the stone figure, as far as she can see --
- -- there are a pair of folded wings on its back. It's an angel. A weeping angel!

She stands, cautiously approaches the windows. Flashes her torch round the overgrown garden. No one else around. Just the statue.

And weirdly, impossibly, it's standing in exactly the right position to have thrown the rock.

What??

Looks back to writing. Lands her torchbeam on her own name?? How is any of this possible??

She rips the next sheet off:

LOVE FROM THE DOCTOR (1969)

SALLY, coming through the door. Tired, still a little jumpy, still pulling herself together.

She I eans back against the door, closes her eyes for a moment --

-- and on the very moment her eyes close, we hear --

THE DOCTOR (OOV)

Your life depends on this - don't blink!

She startles. What?? Where did that come from?

Her view of the hallway. The door to the living room stands open, blue television light flickers eerily out of it.

THE DOCTOR (OOV) (CONT'D)

Don't even blink. Blink and you're dead.

She moves forward to the living room doorway, looks through it.

CUT TO:

8 INT. KATHY'S FLAT. LIVING ROOM - NIGHT

8

On the big widescreen telly in the corner - THE DOCTOR.

A simple newsreader shot, he's talking directly to the camera.

THE DOCTOR

They're fast, faster than you can believe. Don't turn your back, don't look away, and don't blink.

SALLY stares at him - bemused, but no more than mildly curious.

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

Good Luck!

The screen winks out, going blank.

Sally looks round the room increasingly bemused.

... a computer sits on a desk. On the monitor, a freezeframe of the Doctor, clearly at a different point in his conversation...

Panning along. On a table a jumble of portable DVD players, all different makes and sizes -

-- but frozen on all of them, in very slightly different moments of what is clearly the same speech - the Doctor.

KATHY (CONT'D)

(New thought, more al arm)

Oh God!! Sally, you've met my brother, Larry, haven't you?

SALLY

No.

KATHY

You're about to.

Sally looks round.

Standing in the doorway, bleary-eyed, naked (at least from the waist up, that's all we can see) is LARRY. Early twenties, probably good looking in better moments.

He stares at Sally.

Sally stares at him

LARRY

Not sure, but really, really Pant s? hopi ng ...

Sally looks at him regretfully.

SALLY

Nope.

Kat hy: list ening, cringes for England.

Larry: just nods, soberly.

LARRY

Ckay.

And he goes. We hold on the doorway, as Kathy goes belting past it, in pursuit of her brother.

KATHY

(From off; yelling) Put them on!! Put them on, I hat e you!! What were you thinking?? Sally Sparrow doesn't have a boyfriend - she could've torn you limb from limb!

A door slam Kat hy reappears in the kitchen doorway.

KATHY (CONT'D)

Sorry, my useless brother! Only been here three days - the fridge is empty and everything smells of feet.

It's happy for deep people.

Sally has crossed to the windows, looking out on THE WEEPING ANGEL. The thin, lamenting figure, stone face buried in stone hands.

SALLY (CONT'D)

The weeping angel . . .

Kat hy: wrinkles her nose - not impressed, slightly repulsed.

KATHY

Wouldn't have that in my garden.

SALLY

It's moved.

Sally is walking back and forward, squinting at the statue from different angles.

KATHY

It's what?

SALLY

Since yesterday, I'm sure of it. It's closer. It's got closer to the house ...!

Sally's eyes go back to the words on the wall:

BEWARE THE WEEPING ANGEL.

Her eyes travel down the wall - and we pan with her - to --

-- LOVE FROM THE DOCTOR --

-- and on the very moment we reach the signature --

Ding dong. The door bel!!

They exchange a look. What?? Sally goes to the conservatory door, peers out.

Sally's POV. The front door, at the other end of the wide, spacious hall.

The door has frosted glass, there's a shadow on it. A man, tall, thin ... could even be the Doctor.

Kat hy is at Sally's shoulder, keeps her voice to a whisper.

13 CONTI NUED: (2)

KATHY

Who'd come here?

SALLY

Never mind that. Who lives here? That was an electric doorbell.

Ourious, Sally reaches behind her, clicks the ancient light switch in the conservatory --

SALLY (CONT'D)

Someone's paying the bills.

Kathy - worried now - snaps the light off again --

SALLY

In case of what?

KATHY

Inci dent s.

SALLY

Ckay.

KATHY ducks back into the conservatory room, SALLY at the door now. Bolted, big rusty bolts.

She reaches for them, shoots them both.

Sally's face: a moment of hesitation.

The shadow on the frosted glass: without making a big thing of it, it could be the Doctor.

She opens the door.

Standing there: MALCOLM Md-forties, shy and reserved looking, a bit formal, bit old fashioned. He's wearing a suit, and probably always does. He's clearly nervous, bit unsure of himself --

-- which is all Sally needs!

SALLY (CONT'D)

Hello, can I help you?

MALCOLM

Sorry. I'm... I'mlooking for Sally Sparrow.

On Sally: this impacts.

On Kathy: listening from just inside the conservatory door.

SALLY

How did you know I'd be here?

Mal col m has reached inside his jacket, now produces what seems to he an ancient envelope - old and yellow. Hesitates.

MALCOLM

I was told to bring this letter, on this date, at this exact time, to Sally Sparrow.

SALLY

(Still looking at the envelope)
It looks old.

MALCOLM

It is old. I'm sorry, do you have anything with a photograph on it? Like a driving licence?

She straightens up. Trees, fields, grass. And cows. She's in a field with cows. Nothing remains of where she was. No buildings, just fields and trees and farmland.

She turns. A fence. BEN, twenties, a farmhand in a cap and working clothes sitting on the fence, reading a

CUT TO:

25 EXT. FI ELD - DAY ' A'

25

KATHY is approaching BEN on the fence.

KATHY

Excuse me. Where am I?

BEN

You're in the cow field.

KATHY

What cow field? Why are there cows?? What's that about, cows?? I was in London, I was in the middle of London.

BEN

You're in Hull.

KATHY

No, I'm not.

BEN

This is Hull.

BEN

Don't have that in London, no call for it. It's all Hull.

On Kathy, staring, bemused. Then frowning --

-- Kat hy's POV, the newspaper. Zooming in on the date --

- -

SALLY

My Kathy, your granny - they're practically identical --

She breaks off. She's staring at the letter -- the opening few lines, the spidery handwriting of the very old.

KATHY

(V. Q.)

My Dearest Sally Sparrow. If my grandson has done as he promises he will, then as you read these words it has been mere minutes since we last spoke - for you. For me, it has been over sixty years.

Sally's face. What?? What?? Flicking through the letter now, the many pages.

KATHY (CONT'D)

(V. O.)

-- The third of the photographs is of my children. The youngest is Sally, I named her after you, of course --

Flicks through again.

KATHY (CONT'D)

(V. Q.)

-- My husband died of influenza in 1962 --

Flicking through again, faster, more frantic.

KATHY (CONT'D)

(V. Q.)

-- You have always loved history, and the past, but in a way, dearest Sally, you have always been wrong --

Sally looks up at Malcolm, shaking.

SALLY

This is sick!! This is totally sick!!

And she dashes the letter plus photographs to the floor. Malcolm looks in horror at the scattered documents.

A movement from upstairs. Sally's head snaps up.

SALLY (CONT'D)

Kat hy?

And she races up the stairs ...

29 CONTI NUED: (2)

Mal col m bends to pick up the scattered letter and photographs ...

CUT TO:

30 INT. WESTER DRUMLINS HOUSE. LANDING - DAY

30

29

The landing - SALLY emerging onto it. A skylight of broken windows throws slanting squares of daylight on to a world of peeling plaster and pigeon droppings, and --

SALLY looks around, suddenly chilled.

Because up here, standing against the walls, ,looking almost - almost - like they belong here, there are three more WEEPING ANGELS.

These statues are less weather beaten, but just as old - maybe they were outside once, and have been moved inside to preserve them

Two of the angels have their faces plunged in their hands, but the third -

- the third is still crying or lamenting, but its head is thrown to one side and buried in the crook of its arm

Its other arm hangs free, and gripped in this hand --

-- Sally steps closer, looks.

An ordinary Yale key on a loop of ratty old string. Clearly not part of the statue's design, too modern, too ... well, rubbish. (It doesn't matter, but if we're smart, we'll recognise the TARDIS key.)

Sally goes to this statue, looks closer at the dangling key.

The key - still shiny - and its string are gripped by the ancient weather-beaten stone hand. She pulls at the key, but it is firmly gripped. She pulls harder. Still gripped.

She bends to inspect the key --

-- and we see, beyond her, that all the other statues have lowered their hands, and turned to look at her! (Again, we do not see the movement - just the result when she bends out of shot to look at the key.) She yanks at the key - the string snaps.

She takes the key, turning to hold it up to the light for a proper look --

30	CONTI NUED:	30

-- and in this moment we see that all other angels have resumed their positions, faces in hands. (She now has her back to the angel she took the key from)

We hold on her, her back to us, as she examines the key --

-- and we see the shadow of a hand creeping up her back!

From down below we hear a door!

CUT TO:

31 EXT. WESTER DRUMLINS HOUSE - DAY

31

She sets off towards the gates ...

... we pan up from her, letting her feet crunch away down the drive ...

... to the windows of the house. At one of the windows, three of the WEEPING ANGELS stand, watching her go ... We pan to the fourth in the garden, also watching her go...

KATHY

(V. Q.)

I suppose, unless I live to a really exceptional old age, I will be long gone as you read this.

DI SSOLVE TO:

35 INT. CAFE - DAY

35

Sally sits at a table in the cafe, reading the letter, now only half disbelieving - and tears standing in her eyes.

KATHY

(V. Q.)

Don't feel sorry for me. I have led a good and full life. I have loved a good man, and been well loved in return. You would have liked Ben - I wish you could have met him

Sally puts the letter down for a moment, picks up one of the photographs. A wedding photograph, KATHY AND BEN.

Closer on the photo of Ben, smiling proudly He is clearly the man Kathy was talking to in the cow field.

On Sally, squinting critically at him, making an assessment, approving --

-- and when we cut back to Ben, he's no longer a photograph, he's --

CUT TO:

36 EXT. COUNTRY LANE - DAY 'A'

-- calling to KATHY. (We are back by the cow field, minutes after we last saw them)

BEN

Where are you going?

Kat hy is heading determinedly away down the lane, BEN following at more of an amble.

We hold our position, letting them move away from us.

KATHY

Are you following me??

BEN

Yep.

KATHY

Are you going to stop following me??

BEN

Nope, don't think so.

And off they go - Kathy stomping in front, Ben ambling behind - and we slowly:

DI SSOLVE TO:

37 EXT. GRAVEYARD - DAY

37

36

- -- a similarly framed shot of SALLY walking towards us, also seemingly along a country lane, carrying a bunch of flowers --
- -- but as the picture clarifies, we see that it is a graveyard.

KATHY

(V. O.)

To take one breath in 2007 and the next in 1920 is a strange way to start a new life, but a new life is exactly what I have always wanted. You have always loved history, and the past, and I was the one who hated old things - Sally, we were both wrong. The past isn't old. That's exactly what the past is not.

As we hear these words, we have panned with Sally, to a close shot of an old grave stone.

PANNING DOWN THE WORDS:

In loving memory

Benjamin Wainwright (1897 - 1962)

And his loving wife

Katherine Costello Wainwright (1902 - 1987)

Over this, we hear:

KATHY (CONT'D)

(V. Q.)

The past is a place where the world you know is still young and everything is new. Everything is brand new.

Sally places the flowers on her friend's grave. She stands for a moment, looking sadly at the names --

-- then frowns at a detail.

Close on the dates after Kathy's name (1902 - 1987).

SALLY

1902? You told him you were 18?? (Laughs delightedly)
You lying cow!

Still laughing she turns to go --

-- revealing, perched on the large tomb behind her,

(1902? SALLY (L lying cow! q 143)

Guy at the till, BANTO, watching a movie on the store television - clearly an actioner, gunshots and shouting. He's all gut and tight-teeshirt.

SALLY

Excuse me - I'm looking for Lawrence Nightingale.

BANTO

(Calls through the back)

Fl or ence!

(To Sally)

Through the back.

He jerks his head at the curtain leading to the back shop. A little dubiously, Sally moves towards it, pushes through.

SALLY sees some boxes, a kettle, a fridge, this is a room for storage and coffee breaks. No one there.

SALLY

Hello?

Martha!

Sally spins. The voice comes from a television (hooked up to a DVD player) in the corner of the room

That same 'newsreader' shot of THE DOCTOR talking to camera, but MARTHA has stuck her head into shot.

MARTHA

Sorry.

She disappears. The Doctor turns back to the camera, addressing it directly. It's as if he's exchanging remarks with some other, unseen person. His comments are non-sequiturs, delivered after gaps during which he's apparently listening.

THE DOCTOR

Quite possibly.

Sally has moved closer to the telly, looking closer at this man.

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

40

'Fraid so.

She approaches the television strangely compelled by this.

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

Thirty eight.

LARRY appears through a door behind her.

LARRY

Ch. Hello, can I help you?

SALLY

Hi.

LARRY

Just a mo.

Larry has grabbed a remote, paused the DVD. He looks at Sally, realises he recognises her.

LARRY (CONT'D)

Hang on, we met, didn't we --

LARRY

Sorry - sorry, again, about that whole --

SALLY

Message from your sister.

LARRY

Ch! Ckay!

Sally opens her mouth to speak. And nothing comes out. How on Earth does she do this?? The enormity of it is just impacting on her??

People don't understand time - it isn't what you think it is.

SALLY

(Rounding on the tel evision)

Who is this guy??

LARRY

Sorry, the pause keeps slipping, stupid thing --

Larry has grabbed the remote, paused the Doctor again.

SALLY

Last night at Kathy's you had him on all those screens. That same guy. Talking about... I dunno, blinking or something.

LARRY

Yeah, the bit about blinking's great! I was checking if they were all the same.

SALLY

What were the same? What is this, who is he?

LARRY

An east er egg.

SALLY

Excuse me?

LARRY

Like a DVD extra, yeah? You know how they put extras on DVDs - documentaries and stuff. Sometimes they put on hidden ones, they call them easter eggs - you have to go looking for them Follow a bunch of clues in the menu screens --

SALLY

(Losing interest)

Oh God, why am I even talking about this?? What's the matter with me??

LARRY

What's wrong?

On the screen the Doctor comes back to life again.

THE DOCTOR

Compl i cat ed.

Larry grabs the remote again, pauses the picture.

LARRY

Sorry - it's interesting, actually. He's on seventeen different DVDs. There are seventeen totally unrelated DVD releases all with him on - always hidden away, al ways a secret. Not even the publishers know how he got there. I've spoken to the manufacturers, they don't even know. He's like a ghost DVD extra. Just shows But only those ones. Those up on DVDs where he's not supposed to sevent een.

SALLY

What does he do?

LARRY

Just sits there, makes random remarks. It's like we're hearing half a Me and the other guys are conver sat i on. always trying to work out the other half.

He picks up the remote, about to start it again --

SALLY

When you say you and the guys, you mean the internet, don't you?

LARRY

(zapping the remote) How do you know?

SALLY

Spooky, isn't it?

THE DOCTOR

Very complicated.

BANTO

(Calling from off) Florence - need you!

LARRY

S' cuse me a sec.

Larry heads out to the front of the shop, leaving Sally with the Doctor. She looks curiously at him, intrigued in spite of herself.

40

THE DOCTOR

People assume that time is a strict progression of cause to effect, but actually from a non-linear, non-subjective viewpoint, it's more like a big ball of wibbley-wobbley, timey-wimey stuff.

SALLY

Started well, that sentence.

THE DOCTOR

(Ruefully agreeing)
It got away from me, yeah.

Sally blinks, stares in confusion. What?? Did he just reply to her??

SALLY

Okay, that's weird. Like you can hear me.

THE DOCTOR

Well, I can hear you.

She startles, stares at the telly. Freaked now, she has grabbed the remote, zapped the player. The picture freezes.

SALLY

(Shaking, angry)

Okay, that's enough, I've had enough now, I've had a long day and I've had bloody enough!

Larry is standing at the curtain, staring at her, worried. Sally freezes, seeing him

SALLY (CONT'D)

Sorry. Bad day.

LARRY

Got you the list.

SALLY

What ??

LARRY

The list of the seventeen DVDs. Thought you might be interest --

Hissing rain outside, bottle green gloom SALLY stands opposite an elderly DESK SERGEANT who's being very patient with this distressed girl.

DESK SERŒANT

Shall we try it from the beginning this time? Still not quite sure if this girl is missing or not.

SALLY

Okay. There's this house. A big old house, been empty for years, falling apart. Wester Drumlins, out beyond the estate, you've probably seen it --

She is interrupted by the scrape of a chair. She looks up.

DESK SERGEANT

(dead serious now) Wester Drumlins?

SALLY

Yes.

DESK SERGEANT

(Heading for the door) Could you just wait here for a minute.

He heads 'back' into the station - he door closes behind him

Sally: what? What's going on now? She glances out the window --

-- freezes on what she sees.

Sally's POV. Through the window, quite close, the building on the opposite side of the street - like this one, old, blackened. And on the ledge directly opposite, standing either side of a grand window, as if they belong there, TWO WEEPING ANGELS, their faces plunged in their hands. They somehow fit in - on a glance you would think they belonged there.

She crosses to the window, stares in disbelief. It can't be! It can't be them!

But it is. No question. She stares --

- -- and as she stares, we do a big, weird, swooping zoom in on her eyes, till her eyes are filling the screen --
- -- and in eerie slow motion, her eyes blink --
- a big thoom! sound effect --
- -- and as they re-open, she frowns. Stares, puzzled now-
- -- because the Weeping Angels are gone from the ledge. She steps closer to the window. What?? What?? Was she imagining it? She clutches her head.

SALLY Okay. Oracking up now...

44 EXT. POLICE STATION - DAY

A shot of SALLY from outside the window, craning to see where the statues have gone. We pull back slightly from her, to see what she cannot - that THE WEEPING ANGELS now stand either side of the window she's looking out of.

CUT TO:

45 INT. POLICE STATION. FRONT DESK - DAY

45

44

The door opens behind her, she startles.

Coming through the door, BILLY, much younger guy, plain clothes. Good looking, early thirties, confident to the point of cheeky, speaks in info-bursts, like a machinegun.

BI LLY

Hi, D.I. Billy Shipton - Wester Drumlins, that's mine, can't talk to you now, got a thing I can't be late for, but if you could --

Breaks of f, taking her in. Nice. Very nice. You can see those thoughts clicking through his head.

Suddenly unleashes a dazzling smile.

BILLY (CONT'D)

Hello!

SALLY

(A little startled)

Hello.

He pops his head out the door, calls.

BI LLY

Marcie, tell 'em I'm gonna be late for the thing.

CUT TO:

46 INT. GARAGE - DAY

46

Lights flicker on, illuminating a row of parked cars.

We are in a big garage, barely more than a big metal shed, rain drumming on the roof. BILLY and SALLY have just arrived.

Sally looks along the cars.

SALLY

All of them?

BI LLY

Over the last two years, yeah.

They start walking along the row of parked cars - eight of them We track with them

BILLY (CONT'D)

They all had personal items still in them Couple still had the motor running.

SALLY

So over the last two years the owners of all these vehicles have driven up to Wester Drumlins House, parked outside, and just disappeared.

They have reached the end of the row. And standing in the final bay, not a car - the TARDIS!

SALLY (CONT'D)

What's that?

BI LLY

Oh, we found that there too. Somebody's idea of a joke, I suppose.

SALLY

But what is it? What's a police box?

BI LLY

Special kind of phone box for policemen, they used to have them all over. But this isn't a real one - the phone's just a dummy and the windows are the wrong size. We can't even get in it.

Ordinary yale lock but nothing fits. But that's not the big question. See, you're missing the big question.

SALLY

Okay, what's the big question?

BI LLY

Will you have a drink with me?

SALLY

... I'm sorry?

BI LLY

Drink, you, me, now?

46 CONTI NUED: (2)

SALLY

Aren't you on duty, Detective Inspector Shipton?

46

BI LLY

Nope. Knocked off before I left - told 'em I had a family crisis.

SALLY

Why?

BI LLY

Because life is short and you are hot. Drink?

SALLY

No.

BI LLY

Ever?

SALLY

Maybe.

BI LLY

Phone number?

SALLY

Moving kind of fast, D.I. Shipton.

BI LLY

Billy, I'm off duty.

SALLY

Aren't you just!

But Sally has pulled out a notebook, is scribbling down her phone number.

BI LLY

That your phone number?

SALLY

(Handing him the page torn from her not ebook)

Just my phone number. Not a promise, not a guarantee, not an IOU - just a phone number.

BI LLY

Storming! And that's Sally ...?

46

46 CONTI NUED: (3)

SALLY

Sally Shipton.

(Colours! On my God!!)

Sparrow. Sally Sparrow. Me, I am Okay, going now, don't look at me.

She is striding for the exit, head down, embarrassed for England.

BI LLY

I'll phone you!

SALLY

Don't look at me.

BI LLY

Phone you tomorrow.

SALLY

Don't look at me!

BI LLY

Maybe phone you tonight.

SALLY

Don't look at me.

And the door slams behind her.

BI LLY

(Calling after her)

Definitely gonna phone you, gorgeous girl!

SALLY

(Calling from beyond the door)

You definitely better!

Billy grins - he's so in --

-- and then, glancing round, he notices something --

-- ranged along the opposite wall, faces plunged in their hands, three of the WEEPING ANGELS ...

He frowns in confusion - those weren't there before! Sees the fourth ANGEL standing at the police box, one hand placed on it, staring at it raptly - but frozen like the others.

He approaches them Walks right up to one of them, peers closely at it.

46 CONTI NUED: (4)

46

And then that same weird, swooping zoom in on his eyes --

- -- his eyes start to blink in slow motion --
- -- thoom!

CUT TO:

47 EXT. STREET OUTSI DE GARAGE - DAY

47

SALLY is heading away, through the rain, still recovering from her mortal embarrassment --

- -- and then it hits her! She jolts to a halt, scrabbles in her pocket --
- -- and pulls out the yale key on its ratty old string. The key to the box! She turns, runs.

CUT TO:

48 INT. GARAGE - DAY

48

SALLY comes tumbling through the door, key in hand --

SALLY

Billy --

Stops. Looks around. No sign of Billy. Clearly he's left already. And then she notices --

The big double doors at the other end of the garage stand open now, flapping in the wind and rain --

-- and in the bay where the TARDIS stood, nothing. The box has gone - just a pale square on the ground marking where it stood. And tracks showing where it was dragged to the doors. The blue box has been stolen and Billy has vanished!

Corny dramatic chords! And Sally answers her phone.

SALLY (CONT'D)

Hello?
(Relief)
Billy, where are you?
(Confusion)
Where?

CUT TO:

49 EXT. BACK STREET - DAY 'B'

A tatty back street, could be anywhere. PERHAPS a couple of parked cars - but not modern cars, sixties cars. Kids playing the other end of the alley - in sixties clothes, with sixties toys. Sixties posters on the wall. (Whatever's achievable).

-- and out of nowhere, BILLY SHIPTON is slammed against the wall. Dazed, he slides down. He sits there, against the wall, looking Where is he, how did he get here??

THE DOCTOR

1969.

Billy looks up. Tries to focus on the couple - the DOCTOR and MARTHA - strolling down the back street towards him

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

Not bad, as it goes. You've got the moon landing to look forward to!

MARTHA

Oh, the moon landing is brilliant - we went four times.

(shoots the Doctor a look)

Back when we had transport.

THE DOCTOR

Working on it!

BI LLY

(Trying to get up, failing)

Where am I? How did I get here?

THE DOCTOR

Same way we did. The touch of an angel same one, probably, since you ended up in the same year. No, don't get up.

(Sits next to Billy)

Time travel without a capsule, nasty-catch your breath, don't go swimming for half an hour.

BI LLY

I don't -- ... I can't -- ...

THE DOCTOR

Fascinating race, the weeping angels. (MORE)

49

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

The only psychopaths in the universe to kill you nicely. No mess, no fuss - just zap you into the past and let you live to death. The rest of your life used up and blown away in the blink of an eye. You die in the past, and in the present they consume the energy of all the days you might have had. All your stolen moments. They're creatures of the abstract - they live on potential energy.

BI LLY

What in the name of God are you talking about?

MARTHA

Trust me - just nod when he stops for breath.

THE DOCTOR

Tracked you down with this.

He holds up a gadget clearly improvised from sixties household items. There's a valve from a television stuck on the top.

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

This is my Timey-Wimey detector. It goes ding when there's stuff. Also it can boil an egg at thirty paces. Whether you want it to or not, actually, so I've learned to stay away from hens. It's not pretty when they blow.

BI LLY

I don't understand. Where am I?

MARTHA

1969. Li ke he sai d.

THE DOCTOR

Normally I'd offer you a lift home, but somebody nicked my motor. So I need you to take a message to Sally Sparrow. And I'm sorry, Billy, I'm very, very sorry. It's going to take you a while.

On Billy's face, uncomprehending.

CUT TO:

50 I NT. WELLGROVE HOSPI CE - DAY

A bedroom, clearly an institutional one. Sad and bland and temporary. An old, very sick man (OLD BILLY), sleeping noisily on the bed.

Sally stands in the doorway, looking at him Looking around this tragic little room

A red cord, hanging next to Old Billy, to pull for attention.

She crosses to his bedside table. Next to his phone is a scrap of paper, torn from a not ebook. Her not ebook, her phone number written on it.

She opens her not ebook, compares it with the scrap of paper. The torn-out page lying on the desk is ancient and yellowed -the fragment of the same page in Sally's not ebook is brand new and white. She joins them together again for a moment - the tears match exactly, but one part so old, one part so new.

She looks at Old Billy lying in the bed - emaciated, ruined with age and illness.

It's almost too much. She goes to the window, looks sadly out at the pelting rain.

From behind her:

OLD BILLY

It was raining when we met.

SALLY

It's the same rain.

She turns to look at him Barely recognisable as the man she met an hour ago. Sad watery old eyes.

50

SALLY

(Smiles) Sally Shipton.

OLD BILLY
(Smiles, remembering so long ago)
Sally Shipton.

Sally glances at the window, a little unsure what she should be saying.

SALLY

Well. The rain's stopping. That's the good news.

Old Billy looks at the window - like there's something sad about the rain that only he understands.

OLD BILLY
I often thought about looking for you

51 CONTINUED: (3)

51

SALLY (Eyes filling) Ch, Billy - oh no.

OLD BILLY
It's kept me going. I'm an old, sick man. But I've had something to look forward to.

(Takes her hand) Life is long. You are hot.

Sally almost laughs, in spite of herself. Old Billy is looking at the contrast between Sally's hand and his own.

OLD BILLY (CONT' D) Oh, I ook at my hands. Old man hands.

54 EXT. STREET - NI GHT

54

SALLY striding along the street, mobile at her ear.

SALLY

They're mine.

[We now intercut with the DVD shop as required.]

THE DOCTOR

Yes, I do.

LARRY

And that.

THE DOCTOR

Yep, and this.

SALLY

He can hear us. Oh my God, you really can hear us.

LARRY

Of course he can't hear us. Look!

He's grabbed a folder, from his bag, flipped it open, pulled some sheets of paper.

LARRY (CONT'D)

Got a transcript, see, everything he says. "Yep, that's me." "Yes, I do." "Yep, and this." Next it's --

Larry reads aloud.

LARRY (CONT'D)

THE DOCTOR

"Are you going to read out the whole thing??"

(Saying it live)
Are you going to read out the whole thing??

Larry startles, looks at the Doctor.

LARRY

Sorry.

SALLY

Who are you?

THE DOCTOR

I'm a time traveller. Or I was. I'm stuck in 1969.

Larry's head is whipping between his transcript and the screen. Disbelief.

On screen, MARTHA's head pops into view, indignant.

MARTHA

We're stuck. All of space and time, he promised me. Now I've got a job in a shop - I've got to support him!

60 CONTI NUED: (2)

60

THE DOCTOR

Mart ha!

MARTHA

Sorry.

SALLY

I saw this bit before.

THE DOCTOR

Quite possibly.

SALLY

1969. That's where you're talking from

THE DOCTOR

Fraid so.

SALLY

But you're replying to me. You can't know exactly what I'm going to say, forty years before I say it!!

THE DOCTOR

Thirty-eight.

LARRY

I'm getting this down! I'm writing in your bits!!

He has grabbed a pen, starts scribbling frantically in the gaps between the Doctor's remarks.

SALLY

How? How is this possible? Tell me!

LARRY

Not so fast.

THE DOCTOR

People don't understand time - it's not what you think it is.

SALLY

Then what is it?

THE DOCTOR

Compl i cat ed.

SALLY

Tell me.

THE DOCTOR

Very complicated.

SALLY

I'm clever and I'm listening. And don't patronise me because people have died, and I'm not happy.

THE DOCTOR

People assume that time is a strict progression of cause to effect, but actually from a non-linear, non-subjective viewpoint, it's more like a big ball of wibbly-wobbley, timey-wimey stuff.

SALLY

Yeah, I've seen this part. You said that sentence got away from you.

THE DOCTOR

It got away from me, yeah.

SALLY

Next thing you say is "Well, I can hear you".

THE DOCTOR

Well, I can hear you.

SALLY

This isn't possible!

LARRY

(Still writing frantically)

It's brilliant!

THE DOCTOR

Well not hear you exactly, But I know everything you're going to say.

LARRY

Always gives me shivers, that bit.

SALLY

How can you know what I'm going to say?

THE DOCTOR

Look to your left.

She looks to her left. She's looking at Larry, scribbling away.

60 CONTI NUED: (4)

60

LARRY

What does he mean by "look to your left." I've written tons about that on the forums, I think it's a political statement.

SALLY

He means you.

She crosses to him, looks at what he's scribbling away.

SALLY (CONT'D)

What are you doing?

LARRY

Witing in your bits. So I've got a complete transcript of the whole conversation. Wait till this hits the net. This will explode the egg forums.

THE DOCTOR

I've got a copy of the finished transcript. It's on my autocue.

SALLY

How can you have the finished transcript?? It's still being written.

THE DOCTOR

I told you. I'm a time traveller. I got it in the future.

SALLY

Hang on, let me get my head round this. You are reading aloud from a transcript of a conversation you're still having??

THE DOCTOR

Wibbley-wobbley, timey-wimey.

SALLY

Actually, never mind that. (to Larry, of his transcript)

You can do shorthand??

Larry startles, a little guilty, a little embarrassed.

LARRY

So?

THE DOCTOR

What matters is we can communicate. (MORE)

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

We've got big problems now. They've taken the blue box, haven't they? The angels have the phone box.

LARRY

"The angels have the phone box!" That's my favourite, I've got that on a teeshirt!

SALLY

What do you mean, angels? You mean those statue things.

Her eyes go to THE WEEPING ANGEL in the garden, face in its hands.

THE DOCTOR

Creatures from another world.

SALLY

But they're just statues.

THE DOCTOR

Only when you see them

SALLY

What does that mean?

THE DOCTOR

The lonely assassins, they used to be called - no one quite knows where they came from but they're as old as the universe, or very nearly. And they've survived this long because they have the most perfect defence system ever evolved. They're quantumlocked - they don't exist when they're being observed. The moment they are seen by any other living creature they freeze into rock no choice, a fact of their biology. the sight of any living thing, they literally turn to stone. And you can't kill a stone. Of course, a stone can't kill you either. But then you turn your head away, then you blink - and oh yes it can!

SALLY

(Quietly, to Larry)
Don't take your eyes off that!

60 CONTI NUED: (6)

SALLY is pointing a shaking hand at the lone statue in the garden.

On LARRY'S face: getting it.

THE DOCTOR

That's why they cover their eyes.
They're not weeping, they can't risk looking at each other. Their greatest asset is their greatest curse - they can never be seen. The loneliest creatures in the universe.

Throughout this speech, mounting fear on Sally's face. She glances towards the open door - are there shadows moving in the hall, is that a floor creaking?

THE DOCTOR (CONT'D)

And I'm sorry, I'm very, very sorry - it's up to you now.

SALLY

What am I supposed to do?

THE DOCTOR

The blue box, it's my time machine - there's a world of time energy in there they could feast on forever but the damage they do could switch off the sun. You've got to send it back to me.

SALLY

How?

Silence from the Doctor.

SALLY (CONT'D)

How??

THE DOCTOR

And that's it, I'm afraid. There's no more from you on the transcript, that's the last I've got. I don't know what stopped you talking but I can guess. They're coming. The angels are coming for you. So listen to me. Your life depends on this - don't blink! Don't even blink. Blink and you're dead. They're fast, faster than you can believe. Don't turn your back, don't look away, and don't blink. Good luck!

And the picture freezes.

60

SALLY

No, don't, you can't!

And they both lunge instinctively at the tiny screen. Larry is banging the controls, trying to bring back the picture.

LARRY

I'll rewind him

SALLY

What good would that do??

They stare at each other in a moment of mutual, dawning horror.

SALLY (CONT'D)

LARRY

Moving where?? Three of them, moving where??

SALLY

I'm going to look round, I'm going to check, you keep looking at this one, don't blink. Remember what he said - don't even blink!

LARRY

Who blinks? I'm too scared to blink.

Sally turns. Nothing there.

SALLY

Okay. We're going to the door. The front door.

They start edging to the door to the hall, Larry looking back, Sally looking forward ...

CUT TO.

LARRY

Why?

SALLY

I've got something they want.

63 CONTI NUED: (2)

On the Weeping Angel's face. Fanged, terrifying, frozen.

And Larry can't take a second longer. He sneaks the fastest possible look over his shoulder, looks right back into the room --

-- and in that tiny fraction of a second, the Weeping Angel is now two feet from him, its clawed hands reaching for him, its huge mouth stretched even wider.

LARRY (CONT'D)

Sally!! Sally!!

Larry staring, terrified --

-- close on his eyes, liquid and quivering, and it's like he's trying to stretch them right open, all the way.

Don't blink! Don't blink!

Zooming close on his temple, sweat forming, droplets trickling, curving round to his eye...

Don't blink, don't blink!

Sally!!

Sally turns, to head back to Larry, and freezes at what she sees. A door in the back passage standing open, light streaming out.

She goes to the door, looks through --

CUT TO:

68 INT. WESTER DRUMLINS HOUSE. CELLAR - NIGHT

68

SALLY is nervously making her way down the steps, turns the corner.

The TARDIS ---

-- and standing some distance from it, three of THE WEEPING ANGELS, their faces in their hands.

SALLY

Okay, boys, I know how this works. You can't move so long as I can see you.

She is pulling the key from her pocket.

SALLY (CONT'D)

Whole world in the box, the Doctor says. Hope he's not lying, cos I don't see how else we're getting out.

She looks round the motionless statues. On Sally's eyes, close - wide, quivering, liquid. You can feel the not-blinking.

68 CONTI NUED: (2)

68

SALLY

(Fumbling frantically in the fading light)
I can't find the lock!!

The light is strobing frantically now - tiny blips of darkness, longer blips of light.

The angels are approaching the TARDIS - a weird, jerky, stop-motion advance - each flash of darkness inches them closer --

They're feral, their mouths wide and terrifying --

LARRY

Get it open!!

SALLY

I can't find the lock!!

And the lights go out. Total darkness for a terrifying microsecond --

-- and in a glorious moment the lights of the TARDIS windows glow on, throwing beams out into the darkness of the cellar. The angels are caught in the beams, their outstretched claws inches from Sally and Larry.

Sally has found the lock, turning the key has triggered the TARDIS lights --

-- and now the darkness is split, as the blue doors open and the golden light of the control room spills out.

Sally and Larry stumble back into the TARDIS. The doors snap shut on them

CUT TO:

69 INT. TARDIS

69

SALLY and LARRY stumble into the TARDIS, I ooking around in astonishment and wonder.

SALLY

A whole world. He wasn't lying.

A chime from the console --

-- and a hologram version of THE DOCTOR flickers into life, standing at the console (just like with Chris in The Parting Of The Ways.) The image stabilises. This one seems like a standard announcement, rather than a specific message.

THE HOLOGRAM DOCTOR

This is security protocol 712. This time capsule has detected the presence of an authorised control disc, valid one journey. Please insert the disc and prepare for departure.

LARRY

What's happening?

Sally looks round, wildly. The whole console room is simply dissolving around them --

SALLY

Oh my God! It's leaving us behind! Doctor, no, you can't!

- -- the walls are fading, the cellar walls growing clearer.
- -- and worse, THE WEEPING ANGELS, in their four-way embrace are materialising round them!

SALLY (CONT'D)

SALLY

Look at them Quick, look at them

LARRY

(Cal mer, straight ening up)

I don't think we need to.

They look at the frozen statues. Then squeeze out bet ween their locked and frozen forms.

LARRY (CONT'D)

They're looking at each other.

On the statues, locked together, eternally frozen in each other's gaze.

LARRY

Can you mind the store - just nipping next door for some milk.

SALLY appears through the curtain.

SALLY

Yeah, no worries.

Larry is about to go when he notices the folder Sally is clutching.

LARRY

What's that?

SALLY

Not hing.

She's guiltily trying to hide the folder - Larry tweaks it from her hands.

Inside - photographs of the Doctor's wall writing, the transcript of the DVD conversation, pages notes, more photographs of the house and weeping angels.

LARRY

Ch, Sally! Can't you let it go? Three years, all you think about - the Doctor!

SALLY

Of course I can't let it go!

75 EXT. STREET OUTSLIDE SHOP - DAY

SALLY bursts out of the door.

SALLY

Doct or! Doctor!!

THE DOCTOR turns.

THE DOCTOR

Hello! Sorry, bit of a rush, there's a sort of thing happening, and it's fairly important that we stop it --

SALLY

My God, it's you, it really is you. (registers his blank look)

Ch! You don't remember me, do you?

The Doctor is looking at her, a bit blank.

MARTHA

Doctor, we don't have time for this! The migration's started!

THE DOCTOR

Look, sorry - I've got a bit of a complex life, things don't always happen to me in quite the right order. Gets a bit confusing at times, especially at weddings, I'm rubbish at weddings, especially my own --

75

THE DOCTOR

Got what?

Sally hands him the folder.

SALLY

Okay. Listen. One day you're going to get stuck in 1969. Make sure you've got this with you. You're going to need it.

MARTHA

Doctor!

THE DOCTOR

Listen, got to dash - things happening. Well, four things. Well four things and a lizard.

SALLY

No worries, on you go. See you around, some day.

The Doctor turns to dash, hesitates, looks back. Cos he recognises companion material when he sees it.

THE DOCTOR

What's your name?

SALLY

Sally Sparrow.

THE DOCTOR

Good to meet you, Sally Sparrow.

On Sally's face - so weird to finally hear those words, to finally meet him. A smile of relief. And then the tiniest frown of sadness - mystery solved, circle closed.

-- and suddenly LARRY is beside her, clutching a carton of milk, staring in astonishment at the Doctor.

Sally looks at Larry - and finally recognises companion material. Reaches out a hand, takes his.

(We go close on this happening - like with Chris and Billie in the very first episode)

She turns to the Doctor.

SALLY

(A big smile - letting it all go)

Goodbye Doctor.

She turns, and leading Larry by the hand, heads back into the shop. The Doctor, bemused for a moment, turns, dashes off. We hold on the shop, pan up to the sign.
